

Dear Sir(s) :

Access BPL requires bypass components that conduct signals around transformers utilised by all electric utility entities. In the event one of these components fail, it is highly probable that high voltages would be conducted into commercial and residential wiring resulting in deaths, injuries and fires.

Sincerely,

J.R. Evans